BOUSSIM ISMAEL ONIL

Citizenship: Ivory Coast
Phd Candidate (Penn State University)

State College-PA

+1 814 777 8607

Boussim Ismael Onil

oib5044@psu.edu

PROFILE

My research interests lie in econometrics, with a particular emphasis on nonparametric methods for statistical identification, estimation, and inference. My current work focuses on causal inference, with applications in development, labor, and education economics.

LANGUAGES

French - First language
English -Fluent

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Since Sept.(2020)	Teaching/Research Assistant	PENN STATE UNIVERSITY
	Assistant in teaching or research
Dec.2019)-Jul.(2020)	Short Term Consultant	WORLD BANK
	Analyst on the PEJEDEC project

EDUCATION

Since 2020	PhD	PENN STATE UNIVERSITY
	Fifth year, Advisor: Marc Henry
2016-2019	Msc. Statistics and Economics	ENSEA-ABIDJAN
	3-year master program in Statistics and Economics | highest distinction.
2014-2016	Prepatory Classes	INPHB-YAMOUSSOUKRO
	2-year intensive undergraduate in Mathematics and Economics| Highest distinction

HONORS AND AWARDS

- Rosenberg Liberal Arts Centennial Scholarship, The Pennsylvania State University, 2023.

- Second in the national high school exam ranking for scientific series, Ministry of Education Ivory Coast, 2015.

WORKING PAPERS

- Correcting selection bias in standardized test scores comparisons.

- Changes-In-Changes for discrete treatment

WORK IN PROGRESS

- Identifying vector outcome distributions with multivalued treatment

- Semiparametric selection correction without exclusion

- Identification of health distributions and concentration curves under selective attrition (with Marc Henry and Ivan Sidorov)